

Strategies to Support Student Learning Gaps: Multi-Age Classes and Creative Scheduling

With Patti Vitale, Head of School and Nicole Fatato & Sara Knaggs, Multi-age Classroom Teachers from The Brown School

Join us!

Growing gaps in student achievement have forced schools to re-evaluate the use of time and staff expertise. Join us for a four-part exploration of how The Brown School redesigned their schedule to bring teachers together in multi-age classrooms to provide increased support for students. Hear from the Head of School about the logistics of reimagining the school schedule and classroom configurations, and learn from the classroom teachers about collaborating to provide targeted instruction, build community, and increase students' progress toward grade-level outcomes.
