Episode 2 Show Notes:

What Works in School Discipline?

Episode 2 HERE

Hello, teacher friends! In this episode, Christina and Gina wonder what discipline policies and practices are making a difference out there. How much has changed since you were in school? How big is the gap between what the research shows and what we really do? How is a teacher supposed to craft an environment where respect, curiosity, engagement and love of learning can thrive? How do we get past what we experienced as children in order to bring our best selves to work?

What kind of discipline did you grow up with ?
